

Acknowledgments

The Workshop in the Field in the Council of Europe is part of the activities of the Network for the Social Anthropology of Institutions and Representations in the New Europe financed by the Exploratory Grant Scheme of the European Science Foundation in 1998. The participants wish to thank the Foundation for the unbureaucratic support. The field research, its preparation and evaluation were realised in close cooperation with researchers from the LAIOS (Laboratoire de l'anthropologie des institutions et organisations sociales) in Paris, in particular with the support of Catherine Neveu and Irene Bellier. Additionally, Andreas Pribersky, Vienna, Crispin Shore, London, Juraj Podoba, Bratislava, Enikö Magyari-Vincze, Cluj, Michal Buchowski, Poznan and Josef Kandert, Prague provided in the preparatory seminar in Prague in April 1998 the theoretical and empirical background for the research on the impact of the enlargement of European institutions on post-socialist societies. Claire Wallace, Vienna, Elke Kappus, Fribourg and Maruska Svasek, Belfast joined the evaluatory workshop in Prague in February 1999 to become critical discussants for the research papers presented.

We would like to thank the employees, delegates and ambassadors to the Council of Europe for allowing us free access to the institution, enabling us to observe their activities in the daily routine, in committee meetings, assemblies, workshops and in the cafeteria and for answering our innumerable questions with patience. We are particularly grateful to those who have shared their concerns about the restructuration of the institution with us.

The CEFRES in Prague provided the network with its logistical base. We would like to thank in particular its secretary Hana Netukova, and the computer advisor Bohuslav Kounovski for their unfailing support. We thank its director Antoine Mares for the interest he took in our work.
